

THE FLUFFY UPRISING HAS BEGUN

Here's the deal: You're in the middle of a labyrinth filled with rooms powered by puzzles, puns, and emotional decisions. Every door you open changes who you meet, what chaos you unleash, and how the story ends.

Some creatures want freedom. Some want to stay. You? You get to decide what kind of fluffy uprising this will be.

SPOILER ALERT: YOU CAN PLAY THIS MORE THAN ONCE

The adventure is packed with choices – and each one leads to different animal encounters and outcomes!

Will the PCs pick the flower door or the fist door after escaping the lab?

➔ Meet a capybara florist or train with a panda master.

Do they check out the mysterious hiss or run through the corridor?

➔ Solve a glowing chemistry puzzle and free a sword-wielding snake.

Later, they'll face the golden or red door.

➔ Debate friendship with a noble retriever cleric or joust geese in ridiculous games.

At the library: Climb the books or explore the smoky hallway?

➔ Team-challenge vs. deep thoughts with a zen llama and sass-quills.

How they confront the Doctor changes the ending: Will they hug it out and turn the lab into a sanctuary? Or flee dramatically with potion mishaps and lingering regrets?

WHY YOU'RE IN THIS MESS

- Totally Volunteered. Definitely Not Tricked. You signed up for a "Safe Science Adventure" lured by candy and talking animals, only to be sealed in a suspiciously clean room.
- So We Found the 'Evil' Part... Once cheerful lab interns, you poked into the wrong hallway, prompting the doctor to reveal his true colors. Woke up in a cell.
- Thanks for Saving Us... Why Are We in a Tube? You were "rescued" after a dungeon dive, only to wake up in a cell. Your savior? A doctor with too many transformation ideas.

STARRING:

- Dr. Horatio Badgerstein – Scientist. Visionary. Completely off his ethical leash. Wants to help animals by strapping them to lasers and calling it enrichment.
- Sir Squeaks-a-Lot – Mouse knight. Full plate, full heart, tiny body. Believes in cheese, honor, and bite-sized heroism.
- Axo-Lotto – Axolotl paladin. Soft voice, softer gills, huge sense of justice. Fights for peace, bubbles, and better aquatics.
 - Hamstank – Hamster in a spiked ball of doom. Rolls first, asks questions later. Thinks the lab was "kinda cool."
 - Archmage Clawdrick the Tired – Cat warlock. Ancient, arcane, aggressively napping. Will hex you if disturbed.

INTRODUCTION

You wake up in a weird lab. There are glowing pipes, squeaky friends in cages, and a hamster in spiked armor smashing into things. Science has gone very weird. Also, someone may have put your name on a clipboard labeled "NEXT TEST SUBJECT." Whoops.

It's Dr. Badgerstein's Lab. He used to be a kind healer. Now he's building mechanical leg braces for squirrels and giving leeches psychic powers. Good heart, zero boundaries.

You're trapped in here with a dozen magical animals, all of whom are smarter than average and approximately 43% more chaotic. Time for the great escape!

IRL SIDE QUEST OPTIONS (YES, YOU GOTTA DO STUFF)

Parts of this adventure totally let you get goofy in real life. Want to win a goose joust? Better flex those improv skills. IRL prompts are scattered like glitter in a raccoon rave.

Mini-Games You Might Be Asked to Do:

- Charade Synonym Chain: Pick a word. Your friends must act out three synonyms in 30 seconds or face the wrath of the thesaurus bat.
- Real Book Stack Challenge: Stack books IRL while someone reads cringe romance lines. If it topples? Back to the start, drama queen.
- Improv Song Finish: Help the Otter Bard by finishing their sea shanty verse out loud. Extra points for rhyming "freedom" with "cheese drum."
- Fake Jousting with Goose Stick: Compete in silly races holding a broom and yelling "honk!" as loud as you can.
- Potion Shelf Climb IRL Version: Someone blindfolded tries to stack pillows or boxes while others give chaotic instructions.

Warning: Doing these will make the session 72% funnier and increase the chance of players becoming attached to a hamster in armor.
