Dear Friend,

If you are a business owner with a Facebook fan page - then you need to increase your likes, visitor engagement if you want more leads, sales, and profits.

You need enough likes or fans to show prospects that you are an authority, and you have the following.

You need engagement on your page to show prospects that you are active and people like you.

Social proof on your Facebook fan page is a significant conversion factor as to why people will see you as an authority and ultimately buy from you, or they go to your competitor.

But how are you supposed to build social proof if getting someone to like your page - from say the U.S.A. or U.K. is already so expensive? ...and can cost up to $1 per like?

So another words how do you build the following for $50-100 (which is considered cheap on Facebook by the way)

1. Social proof
2. Test images
3. Find the content and the right words to resonate with your audience without spending tens of thousands of dollars just testing and not getting results

How do you test images or content, so that you can get out of the testing phase and win out of the gate?
